

Duck's Key -Where Can It Be?

By Jez Alborough

This story is about Duck and his truck.

(Prop: Duck Puppet or a soft toy)

Duck says I've lost the key where can it be?

(Prop: picture of key) or real car keys at home.

Is it in the flowerpot? No it's not.

(Prop: flower pot - look into the flowerpot)

Is it underneath the mat? You'll have to look harder than that!

(Prop: a mat - look under the mat)

Is it in the box then? No its not.

(Prop: box Look in the box)

"Try again Duck".

(Prop: sound button - try again Duck) You probably won't have a sound button at home so just say Quack Quack!!

The back of the truck it must be there!

You are getting near.

(Prop: a toy truck)

Did somebody whisper "in the bag I'll have a look and see.

(Prop: bag - feel in the bag)

I found the keys to drive my truck.

(Prop: Take out keys from the bag.)

Hurray I am such a clever clever duck.

(Prop: Shout HURRAY clap hands)

THE END

This story is all about hiding and searching together.

It is based on a real book, that asks you to lift the flaps to find the keys. You may already be familiar with it.

Read it slowly and use a very animated tone for more fun!
