THERE were great smiles all round at the Savoy Cinema in the city centre recently when St Michael's House held its annual Christmas matinee.

There was great excitement over this year's film - Frozen 2 - which was a huge hit with the excited audience.

As one of Ireland's largest providers of community based services for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, St Michael's House staff were joined by a team of volunteers from Fujitsu, with more than 500 children and adults enjoying the private screening.

Pictured are (back) Tony O'Malley, chief executive, Fujitsu; Frozen 2 characters Elsa and Olaf; (front) St Michael's House service users from Dublin, Tonto Tumenbayar (10), Katie Flynn (11) and Dionne McGarry (11); bookended by Aoife Moore and Deborah Wiseman.
