

Dublin Gazette

THE FUTURE IS LOCAL, THE FUTURE IS FREE

Baldoyle users to benefit from fashion sale's €62k for St Michael's House

ONE of the country's largest providers of community-based services for children and adults with intellectual disabilities received a cash boost via a fashion sale.

The New To You event raised €62,000 in aid of St Michael's House – with Google generously matching the donation raised by the fashion sale.

This year, the money raised will aid the development of respite and specialised care projects that will benefit 18 service users from St Michael's House Baldoyle Day Service with profound intellectual disabilities.

Pictured above are Michael Farrell, director of Adult Services at St Michael's House and New To You chairperson Niamh Hanratty with the cheque for €62,000, and (inset) St Michael's House staff member Carol Farrell, from the Day Service in Baldoyle, with local service user Kathy McCabe.

