

The Farm

Today we are going to visit farmer Joe's farm and see all his animals.

He is going to pick us up in his tractor and bring us there.

Let's pretend we are driving the tractor.

Sit on the floor with your legs in front and a little bent and hold the steering wheel. Off we go.

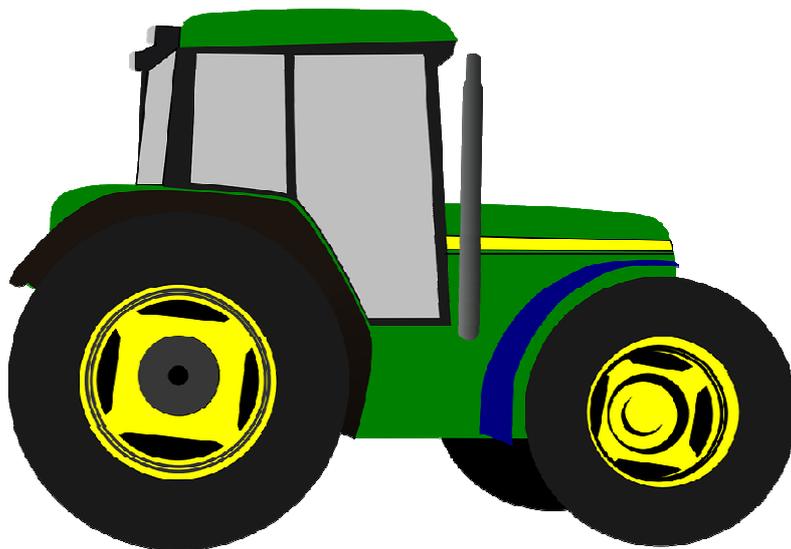

Can you make a sound like a tractor?

This road is very bumpy. Let's bounce along in the tractor.

We are going up a hill now. Lean back as we bump along up the hill.

Now down the other side. Lean forwards and bump along.

We are here now.

First, let's go and see the pigs in their sty.

It is very mucky so we have to put on our boots.

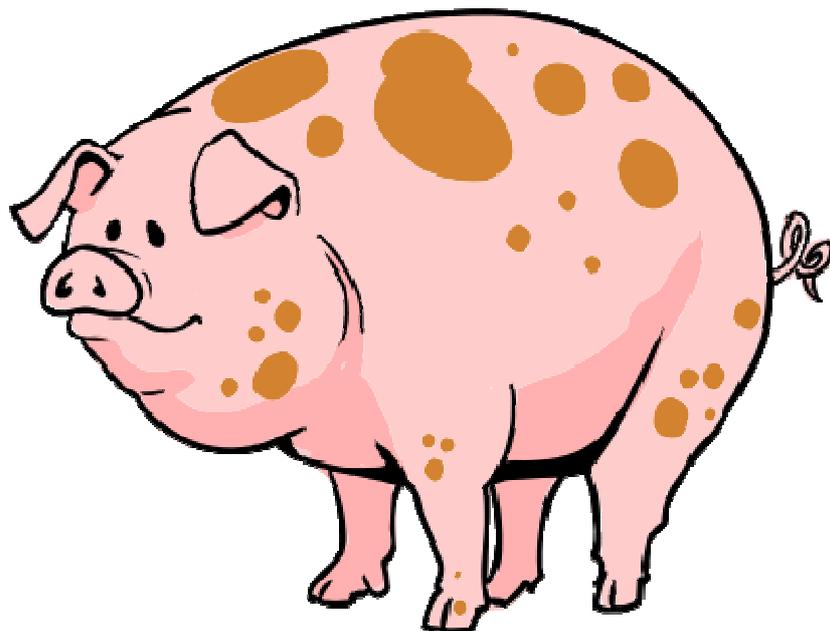

Stand on one leg and put your foot into the boot. Now the other one. Now let's go into the mucky sty and squelch around in the muck. You have to lift your foot up high to pull it out of the muck.

Squelch, squelch, squelch.....

I see the pigs now. They are rolling in the mud. Pigs love to roll in the mud and get dirty.

Let's roll in the mud with the pigs.....

That was great fun.

Look, I see a horse out in the field. His name is Harry.

Let's go and have a look.

Who can gallop like a horse? Let's gallop around the field together. Hold the reins and off we go.

That's great fun. You are very fast.

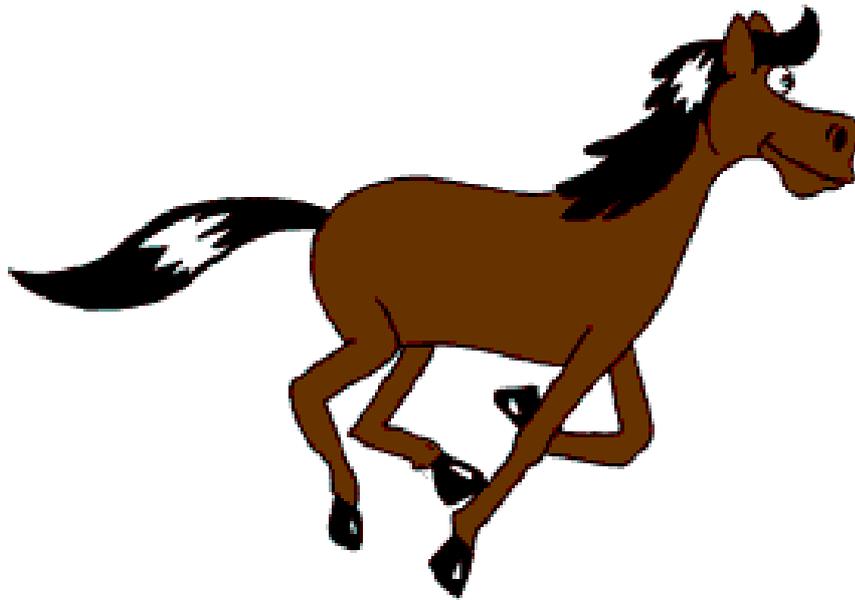

There is a fence. Who can jump the fence?

Ready, steady, jump..... (Repeat)

Well done.

Harry the horse is hungry. Let's trot back to the stable for a drink.

Well done everyone.

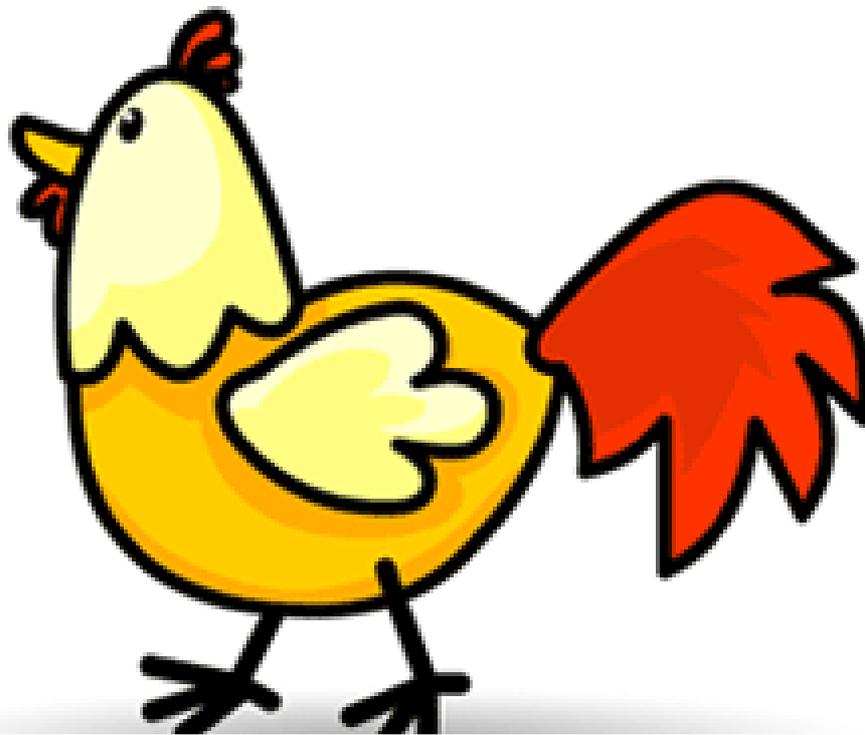

Let's go over to the barn now and see if we can find the chickens.

There they are. They are all walking around the yard. Can you crouch down low and flap your arms like a chicken?

What noise does a chicken make. "Cluck, Cluck, Cluck". Let's walk around like a chicken and cluck.

Great job! That was fun.

I see farmer Joe's dog in the yard. Let's go play with him.

He has a bone. He wants to play. I'm going to throw the bone and I want you to pretend to run after it and bring it back.

Ready, steady, go..... (Repeat)

He is very happy. He is wagging his tail. Can you wag your tail?

Well done.

Oh no I see farmer Joe. He has come to bring us home.

Let's get back into the tractor and bump our way home. Sit on the floor again, hold the steering wheel and bump your way home.

Lean back we're going up the hill again.

Lean forwards we're going down the hill now.

Bump, bump, bump.....We're home

I really enjoyed the farm. I hope you had a good time too.

Bye
